Introduction

One of the biggest losses a family can suffer is the death of a relative in the service of our country. We have a moral obligation to the fallen Navy member's family to be compassionate and helpful, as we would want our families to be supported and helped.

Equally distressing is the news of a Navy relative whom we cannot locate and for whom we are conducting an organized search.

As a Casualty Assistance Calls Officer (CACO), you are the center of a team of Navy, government and civilian agencies. This team must be effectively coordinated to be of assistance to the families of an active duty Navy casualty; therefore, your CACO duties normally take precedence over all other assigned duties.

This handbook is designed to help you fulfill what may be the most important and rewarding duty you will have during your Navy career.

This handbook should be used in lieu of the Casualty Assistance Calls Program (CACP) Manual, BUPERSINST 1770.3, during visits with the next of kin (NOK). For more detailed information, refer to the CACP Manual or call the Casualty Assistance Branch (PERS-621) at 1-800-368-3202 or 1-800-572-2126 in Arlington, Virginia.

Operation of the CACP

Technical Control (determining and setting policies and procedures) of CACP is under the cognizance of the Chief, of Naval Personnel, Personal, Family and Community Support Division, Casualty Assistance Branch (PERS-621).

Management Control (providing information and day-to-day assistance) of CACP is under the cognizance of the Casualty Assistance Calls/Funeral Honors Support (CAC/FHS) Program Coordinator of the area in which primary and secondary next of kin reside.

How to Use this Handbook

This handbook is divided into ten sections. Sections 1, 2, 3, and 4 concern the responsibilities of the Casualty Assistance Calls Officer (CACO) in the meetings with the family. Sections 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 contain information that is useful to the CACO and the family. Section 10 contains the CACO's "professional card" and business note paper.

This handbook is designed to be used in conjunction with the Casualty Assistance Calls Program (CACP) Manual, BUPERSINST 1770.3, but not as a replacement for the Manual. This handbook does not go into detail regarding the various issues that a CACO may encounter but is designed:

- * to provide a quick review of your responsibilities as the CACO prior to each visit with the family;
- * to provide brief answers to questions frequently asked by the family.

It is recommended that you review the CACP Manual and this handbook when assigned CACO duty. The appropriate section(s) of this handbook should be reviewed again prior to each visit with the family. It is also recommended that you carry this handbook when meeting family members.

This handbook is to serve as a guide, not a final authority. Please remember that it is always appropriate to respond, "I don't know but I'll find out and get back to you," and that it is inappropriate to give the family information you are not authorized to release even though at times the temptation may be great.

Each section dealing with visits to the family is divided into:

- * a responsibilities checklist
- * do's and don'ts
- * questions frequently asked by next of kin

You are not expected to be an expert regarding the various services and benefits provided by the U.S. Navy and other organizations, but to serve as a central member of the team helping the family learn what services and benefits are available in their time of need.

SECTION ONE:

THE ROLE OF THE

CASUALTY ASSISTANCE CALLS OFFICER

(CACO)

- * THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CACO
- * DO'S AND DON'TS
- * QUESTIONS FREQUENTLY ASKED BY CACOS

SECTION 1: THE ROLE OF THE CACO

The Responsibilities of the CACO:

- to make personal notification to the next of kin that their relative is dead, unaccounted for--Duty status--whereabouts unknown (DUSTWUN), or reported missing; to provide a brief explanation of the circumstances; to provide updated information regarding remains of deceased or search efforts for a DUSTWUN person;
- to express to the next of kin of those who have died, the Navy's condolences, concern in the case of members in a DUSTWUN or missing status, and continued support for next of kin during their adjustment to their unfortunate circumstances;
- to extend assistance to the next of kin by assessing the need for immediate financial assistance and follow-up arrangements as necessary.

Within 24 hours of next of kin notification, you will carry out the following duties:

- visit primary next of kin (PNOK); relay family decision on allowing Navy preparation/private funeral home preparation of remains; extend assistance with funeral arrangements/memorial service;
- counsel primary next of kin on Navy funeral expense allowances on preparation (embalming), shipment, and casketing of remains; determine their decision and obtain name and telephone number of local receiving funeral home;
- relay primary next of kin decision to Naval Office of Medical/Dental Affairs, (MEDDEN Affairs), Great Lakes, IL;
- advise that CO's letter of circumstances/condolences is to be prepared within 48 hours of casualty incident;
- liaison with casualty's command for additional details of casualty incident;
- assist dependents in arranging travel to/from funeral site;
- monitor personal effects shipment through casualty's command representative listed on item BRAVO, Personnel Casualty Report;
- offer assistance in planning funeral/memorial services/military funeral honors and chaplain for pastoral care
- liaison with receiving funeral director, arrange funeral honors and attend funeral;
- remain available to further assist with difficulties that may arise during the family's adjustment to the tragic event;

- arrange for dependents' continued occupancy in government quarters or Basic Allowance for Quarters (BAQ) equivalent for 180-day period following member's death;
- provide information and assistance in applying for survivor benefits;
- monitor progress of transport of remains and keep next of kin informed;
- apprise next of kin via CACO Call Card of next of kin 24-hour toll-free telephone numbers in Washington, DC; and
 - contact Fleet Hometown News Center, Norfolk to ensure no impending Navy originated news articles appear hereafter in family's hometown newspapers.

You will report to your Casualty Assistance Calls/Funeral Honors Support (CAC/FHS) Program Coordinator: 1) when you need assistance or support; and/ or 2) always to advise the Program Coordinator of problems, complaints, or next of kin dissatisfaction.

The CACO is the "team leader" in assisting the next of kin. There are numerous resources available to assist you in this endeavor. A partial listing of resources is available in Section 8 of this handbook.

The CACO's role is varied: a leader, a messenger, a resource coordinator and an administrator. You will find it helpful to be organized and to keep accurate and complete written records of your duties and activities. In preparation for CACO duty you should thoroughly familiarize yourself with the (CACP) Manual, BUPERSINST 1770.3.

The following represents the usual order of events once the program is initiated:

a. CAC/FHS Coordinator tasks the CACO to personally notify next of kin and provides the CACO with details on the casualty incident and next of kin information, etc.

b. The CACO liaisons with duty chaplain or other Navy representative, (e.g., Hospital Corpsman); the two proceed immediately to residence of next of kin.

c. Personal notification occurs between 0600-2400 under most circumstances. Immediate need of primary next of kin for financial assistance is assessed; contact Pers-621 for arranging payment of Death Gratuity.

Do's and Don'ts

Do know your CACO Manual and follow it.

Do handle the case in the same manner you would like your family dealt with in a similar situation.

Do not hesitate to ask anyone for help.

The Role of the CACO

Questions Frequently Asked by CACOs

What are the advantages of being a CACO?

You get the opportunity to demonstrate what you, as a Navy professional, can do in an "independent," very stressful and difficult assignment. Keep this assignment in the context of what you personally would expect another Navy professional to do for your family. It will be very time-consuming, and probably one of the more fulfilling assignments you will perform during your entire Navy career.

Are my CACO duties or my usual Navy duties more important?

Your CACO responsibilities normally take precedence over all other duties. If there is doubt, consult your CAC/FHS Coordinator. CACO duties normally performed exclusive of normal chain of command procedures.

CACO duty can be really stressful and emotionally draining. What can I do for myself?

Use your resources and express your feelings to someone who will understand. Don't expect to know all the answers or be afraid to say, "I don't know, but I will inquire and get back to you."

What should I do if faced with an unusual situation while I'm at the residence of the family, or when I'm not sure what to do at other times?

You can contact your CAC/FHS Coordinator or call PERS-621 at the toll-free telephone number (1-800-368-3202 outside Virginia and 1-800-572-2126 in VA). At other times, refer to the CACP Manual or ask an experienced CACO.

What should I do if the news media contacts me or the casualty's family about the casualty incident?

Immediately contact your local or BUPERS Public Affairs Officer (PAO)

What should I do if the next of kin becomes dependent upon me or wants to prolong the relationship?

Be sure you have fulfilled your duties and done all you can do to assist. Begin to refer them to other support services such as Family Services, Chaplain, Navy Relief, and/or other groups.

Do plan to act as liaison between family members who refuse to talk directly with each other about casualty incident (e.g., divorced parents who won't converse directly with each other.)

Do advise next of kin to contact Red Cross to notify other family members in active military services.

Do advise next of kin of assistance available from Navy Relief/Red Cross.

Questions Frequently Asked by Next of Kin

How did it happen?

Advise next of kin of all factual details regarding the death. Restrict the information to what has been received. Explain that initial details are normally brief. Assure the family that more details will follow.

Assure next of kin you will get answers to their questions and get back to them. If death was by other than natural causes and an investigation is being conducted, advise the family they are entitled to a copy of the completed report upon written request.

Where are the remains and where will they be sent?

Item ECHO in the Personnel Casualty Report will specify the location of the remains.

The Navy transports the remains at no cost to the family, to the receiving funeral home of primary next of kin's choice.

When will the remains arrive?

Assure next of kin you will inform them as soon as you know when the remains will arrive. MEDDEN Affairs provides scheduling information. When death occurs overseas, the remains are usually returned to the local funeral home within 7 to 10 days.

Are the remains viewable?

At this time, we don't know. If no one has addressed the issue, be sure to check into it yourself.

What can I expect in financial support?

A Death Gratuity of $6,000 can normally be arranged by the CACO working with BUPERS, permitting payment within approximately 48 hours of the casualty.

Note: Death Gratuity payment should be discussed with Casualty Assistance Branch prior to promise of, approval for, and actual payment.

Funeral Arrangements Visit

If honors are requested for a member whose death was under other than honorable conditions, refer the matter to the CAC/FHS Coordinator for decision.

Who is entitled to a flag?

One to spouse; one for parents who reside together; or two, if parents reside separately. Exceptions will be decided by CAC/FHS Coordinator.

Generally, within 90-120 days.

To whom are member's personal effects shipped?

Executor/Administrator of estate named in Last Will and Testament; if none, to spouse; if none, to child(ren); if none, to parents (if living together). If parents are living apart, PERS-621 will determine recipient.

SECTION 5:

EXCEPTIONS

TO THE

NORMAL PROCEDURE

This handbook has focused on deaths of active-duty personnel. There are other types of cases to which you may be assigned.

DUSTWUN/Missing/or Captured

The notification process is almost the same as in a death, except that the wording is different; e.g., "The Secretary of the Navy has asked that I inform you that your (relationship) has been reported in a _____ status in _____, _____, at _____ (a.m./p.m.) on _____, 19____.
(Briefly state the circumstances.) On the Secretary's behalf, I extend to you and your family my deep concern for his/her well-being."

The reporting of any member into any one of these categories has no effect whatsoever on dependent privileges and benefits.

The length of the CACO's assignment may extend into years, throughout which the CACO is responsible for providing moral support to the next of kin, as well as keeping the next of kin updated on the status of the missing/captured member. Once a member has been reported in such a status, the Casualty Assistance Branch will work with the CACO to arrange for monthly payment of a portion of member's pay and allowances for the dependents. A case history must be maintained throughout the entire assignment.

Retirees

A retiree CACP office is located at Pers-664. Inquiries by family may be referred to toll-free number 1-800-255-8950.

Reservists

In general, the death of a reservist is treated like an active-duty death if it occurred while the reservist was on active duty or inactive duty for training. Otherwise, no special handling applies.
